'Athens' in ruins

South Side High School is a far cry from its glory days.

By RON FRENCH
Of The News-Sentinel

They were the sons and daughters of the city's elite, kids with shiny faces and bright futures.

They attended the city's top high school, an imposing ivy-covered building with huge pillars and an academic reputation to match.

Things have changed at South Side High School.

Where once 70 percent went to college, now 70 percent don't. The cafeteria where the children of many of Fort Wayne's wealthiest familes ate now is filled with poor students eating free lunches.

"People say South Side isn't what it used to be," said Principal Jack Weicker. "Well, they're right."

When school ended Thursday, it also was the end of an era at South Side, 3601 S. Calhoun St. Weicker is retiring after 39 years at the school, the last 27 as principal. Assistant Principal Richard Block is leaving after 31 years. Dean and counselor Robert Kelly is retiring after working at the school 29 years.

They and five longtime teachers who are retiring are leaving a school vastly different from the one most walked into more than a quarter-century ago. The dramatic changes at South Side are typical of those faced by urban schools. The changes culminated this year with talk of closing South Side and making it a magnet school.

"We're at the critical point in the history of South Side," said Bill Anthis, superintendent of Fort Wayne Community Schools. "South Side today is not the South Side of 1963. We have to face it."

It has the most students from single-parent families and the most on the free-lunch program. It has the highest dropout rate and the lowest daily attendance rate.

"It's almost a losing battle," said Block. ". . . Eventually, something has got to come to this school."

It was different when Weicker came to South Side in 1951 as a history teacher.

"It was an upper- and middle-class school," Weicker said. "Many of the kids were among the richest in the city. The kids were all shiny and neatly dressed.

"We used to be called the Athens of the South, and not just because of the pillars."

The school used to be known for its disrupt election

Czechoslovakian 'linked' to regime

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Czechs and Slovaks prepared today to welcome their first freely elected government in more than four decades, but a controversy between the two most powerful parties overshadowed the euphoria of free voting.

At issue are the alleged links of Christian Democrat Josef Bartoncik with the despised secret police of the past Communist regime.

Bartoncik's People's Party, one of three parties in the Christian Democratic alliance, filed suit Thursday against a deputy interior minister and Civic Forum sympathizer, Jan Ruml, who accused Bartoncik of wrongdoing. The People's Party said Ruml's actions contravened the election law forbidding any electioneering 48 hours before the voting.

Polls opened at dawn today for the second day of balloting, and were to close at 2 p.m. Final results were expected tomorrow.

Civic Forum, the loose group of intellectuals, students and dissidents who fueled the revolution seven months ago that ended the Communist grip on power, was heavily favored along with its Slovak partner, Public Against Violence.

The Christian Democratic alliance was expected to be the runner-up, with only three other parties — the Communists, the enviromentalist Greens and the Social Democrats — projected to do well enough to clear the 5 percent hurdle needed to be represented in Parliament.

Only in Slovakia, the more rural part of the nation, was the race expected to be relatively close, with the Christian Democrats in a good position to win in that republic.

Japan resists U.S. pre

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Toshiki Kaifu stood up to heavy U.S. pressure yesterday and refused one of Washington's demands to make Japan's economy more accessible to U.S. businesses.

Kaifu's tough stand suggests his government can assert itself, despite Washington's threats to retaliate if Japan fails to slash its $49 billion trade surplus with the United States.

Kaifu's decision comes even as some observers are detecting a change in Japan's legendary resistance to imports. On Thursday, Japan accepted U.S. technology as the standard for cellular phones.

But Kaifu said Japan would not give in to a U.S. demand that it set

South Side forced to stretch

SOUTH/From 1
academics, said Robert Gernand, who is retiring this year after teaching math at South Side since 1955.

"There was one year we had 11 National Merit Scholarship finalists, and we had only 66 in the state," Gernand said. "At one time, the rest of the city looked at South Side as a bunch of snobs."

That reputation began slipping in the early 1970s.

In 1971, South Side had its first big influx of minority students when Central High School closed.

South Side continues to absorb a large share of minority students, adding to a growing racial imbalance in the high schools. South Side's population is about 40 percent minority; North Side's is about 15 percent.

Families with money began moving out of the city and into the suburbs, especially Aboite Township. What once were middle-class neighborhoods sank into disrepair. Those trends continue.

Jeff Rocke moved his family from Harrison Hill to Aboite Township four years ago.

"I was a little bit concerned . . . (about) a whole area in flux," Rocke said. "I thought property values were better (in Aboite)."

"Some people call it white flight," Block said. "Who is being left to be taken care of? To be educated? The people who can least afford it."

About 48 percent of South Side students come from single-parent families.

"These kids have so many more needs," Block said. "Our kids need so much parenting before you can teach. And the job doesn't always get done.

"Every student should be stretched as far as they can stretch. But we have students who need to be stretched so much farther."

As more people move out of the neighborhoods, enrollment continues to decline. In the early '60s, there were about 700 students in each grade at South Side. This year's graduating class is 218.

While Snider High School has grown to 1,750 students, South Side has become the second-smallest high school in the city, with 1,020 students.

"The changes (occuring over the past 20 years) are going to accelerate," Anthis warned. "Something will have to be done in the next year or two. Five years down the road will be too late."

Last fall, Anthis recommended South Side be closed. Students now attending the school would be shipped to the district's other high schools, and South Side would become a magnet high school.

After a storm of protest, the idea was dropped. Parents and alumni rallied to the support of South Side to keep it open as a neighborhood high school.

Brenda Porter, a parent active in Friends of South Side, said there are fewer racial problems at South Side than at other city schools. Anthis said students at risk of failure do better at South Side than other schools.

Weicker thinks people don't realize the significant role the school plays in the neighborhood.

"We're the glue holding this neighborhood together," Weicker said. "If you take South Side High School out of here, you're going to see the whole neighborhood go down the tubes."

Weicker knows the school's role has changed.

The school doesn't produce the number of future college graduates it once did. It may never again.

"All kids need some sort of education," Weicker said. "We simply have to take what comes to us and do the best we can."

was supposed to cover 40 percent to 45 percent of the county's population. Growth since that time means it now covers only about 35 percent of the people.

Relying on sirens alone isn't smart.

"Turn on everything you've got," Hire said. Television and radio should pass along storm warnings.

With some parts of the population, though, tornado education is futile.

"Tomorrow, if we had one, people would know what to do. But two weeks from now, if we had another warning, people would forget again," Hire said.

Dear Carol Springer.

Thank you for your letter of 9/3-´92-
Here is what I have found of informations, concerning C.F.Tietgen.
Build by Harland & Wolff in Belfast in 1897.
8173 B.R.T., 469 eng. foot long, 5000 HP.
C.F.Tietgen was first bought by the Holland-America Line, where it was called "Rotterdam".
In 1906 the ship was bought by the Scandinavian-American Line, and called C.F.Tietgen.
It´s first departure from Copenhagen was april.26.-1906.
In 1913 the C.F.Tietgen was sold to the Russian- East Asiatic Co.
Enclosed is a picture of some of the ship´s, from that time.
I hope you can use these informations.

Sincerly.

Fred Forsgren, 36, of 2409 N. Springfield av., a foreman for the Illinois Tool Company, was shot and seriously wounded in the chest and left arm by one of two robbers, who fired a blast from a shotgun when he refused to hold up his hands as he sat in his automobile with Miss Edna Brunhofer, 30, in front of her home at 2527 N. Drake av., early today.

The robbers, driving up in an automobile, alighted and approached. They said:

"This is a stickup. Get out and hold up your hands."

"I won't put up my hands for any one."

The shotgun blast followed and the bandits fled. At the Belmont Hospital it was said Forsgren's condition is serious.

TOLL IN HOTEL BLAZE 28; ONLY 10 IDENTIFIED

Bodies of the 27th and 28th victims were removed yesterday from the ruins of the Barton hotel, 644-48 Madison st., which was swept by fire early Saturday.

The bodies, unidentified, were found by workmen of the Speedway Wrecking company who are tearing down the hotel ruins. The police missing persons bureau said that print comparisons have established the identities of 10 of the victims.

List Identifications

These included three positive identifications previously made by relatives. The 10 are Edgar Piette, 59; Charles J. Butala, 44; John H. Dunning, 50; Joseph Dobosz, 40; Irwin Nelson, 44; William Cromwell; Frank M. Slaughter, 53; Charles E. Edenhart, 45; Wilbert J. Edwards, 44, and Stephen Aloysius Harkins, 60.

Nelson, Butala, and Harkins were identified thru prints on file because of their military service. Seven other bodies have been identified tentatively, and 11 others are unknown.

Harry Glos, chief investigator for Coroner Walter E. McCarron, and Deputy Coroner Ray Kiedro visited seven other skid row hotels yesterday in their second day of examining such structures.

Glos said they found "terrible filth" in the 42 room Family hotel at 616 Madison st. Four fire extinguishers were found to have been filled with water, instead of fire fighting chemicals, he said.

Some Found "Good"

Glos said the Etna hotel, 645 Madison st., with 150 rooms, was dirty and had junk littered rooms, and that the New Madison hotel, 661 Madison st., with 213 rooms, was unsanitary.

Other hotels which Glos and Kiedro said were in "fair" or "good" shape included the Jefferson, 600 Madison; the McEwan, 610-12 Madison; the Fremont, 609 Madison, and the West, 737 Madison.

Room rates ranged from 65c to $1.25 a night in the various hotels. The West hotel offered a 4 room apartment for $3 a night, Glos said.

PROBE SUICIDE OF CHAUFFEUR FOR MAE WEST

Authorities yesterday were investigating the apparent suicide of Ray Charles Wallace, 44, personal chauffeur for Actress Mae West. His body was found Tuesday in Miss West's Cadillac limousine on a farm near Patoka, Ind.

Miss West, currently appearing at a Chicago night club, said she could give no reason for Wallace's death. Her manager, Vincent Lopez, said Wallace left Miami on Feb. 7 to drive the car here. Lopez said Wallace called him several times en route to complain of having "lots of trouble." Lopez said he notified Indiana state police Sunday to be on the lookout for Wallace.

Coroner Robert Kendall termed the death suicide. He said a hose ran from the exhaust pipe to the car's interior. In the car was a sealed metal box bearing Miss West's name. Miss West, who flew here from Miami, said she didn't know what the box contained.

2. Affiant further shows to the Court that Letters of Administration of the estate of the said decedent, were duly issued to this affiant on the 3rd day of March, 1955 and that more than six (6) months has expired since the date of publication of the first notice of affiant's appointment.

3. Affiant further says that she has caused the Inheritance Tax due from said estate to be determined and the Court has determined that no Inheritance Tax is due from the estate.

4. That affiant has filed the return required of this estate under the provisions of the Federal Estate Tax law but that no tax was due from this estate as shown by said return.

5. That this affiant has paid all Gross Income Tax due from this estate and will attach hereto the certificate of clearance issued by the Gross Income Tax Division of Indiana as soon as the same has been received.

6. That this affiant has prepared and filed the required return of this estate under the provisions of the United States Income Tax law and has paid the tax due thereon, and affiant has also prepared and filed the Individual Income Tax Return of the decedent for the year 1955 and has received back from the United States Treasury, the amount of overpayment of 1955 Federal Income Tax shown due by said return, namely, a refund of $150.21.

7. Affiant further shows to the Court that a short time before the death of the decedent, his brother, John E. Forsgren, a resident of Allen County, Indiana, died testate and his Will was duly probated in this Court, and by the terms of said Last Will and Testament of said John E. Forsgren, all of his property was bequeathed to his brother, namely, the decedent, Fred E. Forsgren, That after the death of said John E. Forsgren, the decedent paid certain medical and other expenses of his deceased brother, and, in view of the fact that said John E. Forsgren did not leave any moneys on hand or in the bank with which to pay his obligations, but left as his only belongings, certain shares of stock in the Graham-Paige Corporation, Hurd Lock & Manufacturing Company and Masco Screw Products Company, it was concluded that it would be to the advantage of the decedent's estate herein to advance the funds necessary to pay off the debts and obligations of said John E. Forsgren and the costs and expenses of administration of his estate to the Lincoln National Bank and Trust Company of Fort Wayne, Administrator, de bonis non of the estate of said John E. Forsgren and to receive on final distribution the shares of stock held in said estate in kind, and accordingly a certain amount, as shown in the accounting herein was advanced to the Administrator of said John E. Forsgren Estate from the funds in this estate, and certain other amounts were advanced to said Administrator by Florence M. Forsgren as widow of the decedent herein, as hereinafter referred to, and by means of such funds, said Administrator of the John E. Forsgren Estate was enabled to pay off all debts and costs of administration of said estate and to deliver to this affiant, as Administratrix herein, all of said shares of capital stock of said three corporations, constituting the entire assets of said estate, all of which are accounted for herein, with net inventoried values herein adjusted to the value of said shares as appraised in said John E. Forsgren Estate.

8. Affiant further shows that she has collected in all assets belonging to the estate of the decedent, and has paid all of the costs of administration, taxes and indebtedness of said estate, with the exception of certain amounts owing to this affiant as an individual for moneys advanced for the payment of obligations primarily owing by said estate as hereinafter referred to, and files this her report of all amounts and assets received and of disbursements made on behalf of said estate, and attaches hereto vouchers

Forsgren Estate in order to save the expense connected with liquidating the assets of that estate and to obtain distribution thereof to this estate of the assets in kind, none of which amounts have been repaid to this affiant and all of which are legitimate claims and charges against the estate herein, and of the statutory allowance granted to this affiant, as widow of the decedent, this affiant has only taken assets of the inventoried value of $150.00, and is entitled to payment of the balance from this estat , and affiant attaches hereto vouchers showing such payments, a list of

	TOTAL ADVANCED FOR BENEFIT OF ESTATE BY FLORENCE E. FORSGREN AND BALANCE WIDOW'S ALLOWANCE	$ 8,791.15

11. Affiant further shows to the Court that the value of the assets remaining on hand, as inventoried, are inadequate to pay to this affiant the balance owing on her statutory allowance and to repay to her the amounts above set forth of advancements made by her for the purpose of defraying the expenses of last illness, funeral expenses, taxes and debts of the decedent and amounts advanced in connection with the administration of the decedent's estate; that decedent's automobile is necessary for the transportation of affiant and her minor daughter from their home, which is located outside the City of Fort Wayne and is a considerable distance from the downtown portion of the city as well as the school attended by said daughter; that the appraisal thereof was of the value as at the death of the decedent and would be considerably less in view of the year that has elapsed since then and that on the present market, affiant believes that the shares of stock and automobile remaining in the estate could not be liquidated for more than the value shown in the inventory herein and would probably have to be liquidated for less than that amount and would thus leave the decedent's estate insolvent. That after the payment of the obligations and advancements by this affiant as shown above, there was only one obligation outstanding against the decedent's estate, that being a promissory note in the principal sum of $3,000.00 executed by the decedent and this affiant, as his wife, for money borrowed from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hintz of Chicago, Illinois, upon which the full principal sum was due and unpaid at the time of the decedent's death; that since decedent's death, this affiant has paid the sum of $500.00 upon said note and there now remains unpaid, the sum of $2,500.00, which this affiant is unable to pay at this time because of lack of ready funds, but the payees in said note, in order to enable this affiant to close this estate without the necessity of liquidating the remaining assets in the estate at a possible sacrifice of value thereof, agree to release the decedent's estate from any further liability on said promissory note and to look solely to this affiant for the payment thereof, in consideration of the agreement by this affiant to assume and pay the entire balance of said promissory note and affiant attaches hereto the agreement of the parties to that effect.

12. Affiant further says that she believes that it will be to the best interest of the decedent's estate and of the heirs of said decedent to transfer and deliver to herself as an individual, all of the assets remaining on hand in this estate, as above set forth, in full payment and satisfaction of her claims for statutory allowance and amounts advanced, as above set forth in lieu of selling and liquidating said assets remaining on hand, and thereby saving the additional cost of disposing of said assets and additional costs of administration and preventing any shrinkage in value, and in consideration of such transfer, this affiant will release all of her said claims against the decedent's estate so that the same may be closed on a basis other than insolvency.

13. Affiant further says that she is not making any claim for her services as administratrix herein, but that she has employed the firm of Parry and Barns, as attorneys, for said estate. Said attorneys have handled all matters of administration procedure including the appointment of the administratrix and the opening of the estate, services in ascertaining and inventorying the assets belonging to the decedent, proceedings to determine tax liability under the Federal Income Tax law, the Federal Estate Tax law, the Gross Income Tax law and the Indiana Inheritance Tax law and have handled all matters requiring legal attention in said estate, and for their services in the administration of this estate, said attorneys have charged, and this affiant, as administratrix, has paid to them a sum of $1,800.00 in full payment of their fee. The gross estate as determined for Federal Estate Tax purposes amounted to $87,795.64,of which the value of the assets administered upon in the estate was $10,453.06.

WHEREFORE, this affiant prays the Court for an order as follows:

(a) Approving this final report, and the accounting of this affiant therein, in all things;

(b) Approving and allowing the amount of fees paid by affiant to the attorneys for said estate as herein reported;

(c) Authorizing and ordering this affiant to transfer and deliver to herself, the entire balance of assets on hand as herein reported, to-wit: The Cadillac automobile and the shares of corporate stock above described, in full payment and discharge of affiant's said claim for statutory allowance and amounts advanced for the benefit of the decedent's estate as above recorded, leaving no assets for the distribution to the heirs at law of said decedent;

(d) And that upon making report of such transfer, that this estate be declared to have been fully administered upon and terminated, and that this affiant be released from any further duties or obligations in said estate and that she and the surety on her official bond be released from any further liability upon said official bond; and

(e) For such other and further order as the Court may deem appropriate in the premises.

Respectfully,

Att

Anna Katharina Forsgren, född Israelsson, jo som efter en tids sjukdom stilla och fridfullt i tron på sin Frälsare afled tisdagen den 27 februari kl. 7 fm., i en ålder af 66 år och 11 mån.; djupt sörjd och saknad af mig, 3 barn, 1 måg, 1 sonhustru och 3 barnbarn samt öfriga släktingar och vänner, har jag den smärtsamma pliktten tillkännagifva.

Viktoria och Johan Forsgren.
Erik.
Stilla komme och välkomna vare dagen slut och lodt. Stilla må Gud [illegible]
nimmelsk bosatt i byn.

Att
Herren, som råder över liv och död, har hädankallat vår ömt älskade fader
I. d. Hemmansägaren
Johannes Forsgren
— född den 17 april 1857 —
som stilla och fridfullt avled å Umeå lasarett måndagen den 8 aug. kl. 7 em., djupt sörjd och saknad av barn och barnbarn samt trotjänarinna, släktingar och många vänner, tillkännagives härmed.

Om mig min sjukdom gör så svag,
Att röster mig försmäktar, Hör än i varje andedrag Den enda bön, jag mäktar: Gör på min plåga ett gott slut, Släck mild den lärda lampan ut, Att jag i frid må fara!
